

Let NMGI manage your network so you can manage your practice.

NMGI Solutions for the Healthcare Industry

What sets Network Management Group, Inc. (NMGI) apart from other technology firms is our experience. Our managed service engineers have been providing the highest rated support for over 30 years and strive for zero downtime.

Call the Technology Professionals

NMGI has provided technical and functional consulting services to organizations around the nation for the past 30 years. As specialists with hands-on experience in designing, installing, and managing critical network infrastructure our staff possesses the first-hand knowledge of best practices and security requirements. We're not a fly-by-night technology firm. We're experienced technology experts.

Managed Services for Healthcare Practices

Network Management Group, Inc. provides consulting, technology solutions, systems and related services to public and private sector clients throughout the United States. NMGI is based in Hutchinson, Kansas, and has a team, with 500+ combined years of experience, who are all focused on solving the needs of your organization. NMGI lets healthcare practitioners be healthcare practitioners instead of IT experts. We provide complete managed services including installation, operation, monitoring, and maintenance of your network, virtually eliminating the need for you to hire and manage an expensive team of IT specialists. NMGI's managed services can also watch over your desktop computers, servers, and other computing assets to provide a comprehensive solution to your technology needs.

Update Your Network Infrastructure

How much has the healthcare industry changed in the past several years? If your information technology is still the same as several years ago, your practice's critical backbone may be on the brink of obsolescence too. Consider your data network and the new threats and viruses emerging virtually every day. Security is paramount, but so is flexibility and agility to manage growth and seize emerging opportunities. Is your network up to these tasks? Will it still be tomorrow? Find out with a network assessment by NMGI.

Begin with a Network Inventory Scan

Explore a relationship with NMGI through a complimentary network inventory scan. Let our networking consultants review your current infrastructure to determine what's working well, and where process or technology improvements could benefit your facility. We'll brief you on our findings, then you can choose whether to move forward with NMGI's services, address the issues on your own, or make no changes at all.
